Knowing that you have health care coverage that meets your and your family’s needs is reassuring.

But part of your decision in choosing a plan also means you need to understand:

- Who can enroll
- How you and your employer handle coverage changes
- What’s not covered by your plan
- How your coverage works with other health plans you might have

Who can be enrolled

You can choose coverage for just you. Or, you can have coverage for your family, including you and any of the following family members:

- Your spouse
- Your children age 26 or younger, including:
  - A newborn, natural child or a child placed with you for adoption
  - A stepchild
  - Any other child for whom you have legal guardianship

Coverage will end on the last day of the month in which they turn 26.

Some children have mental or physical challenges that prevent them from living independently. The dependent age limit does not apply to these enrolled children as long as these challenges were present before they turned 26.
The ins and outs of coverage

1. At the employer level, which affects you and other employees covered by an employer’s plan, your plan can be:

2. At the individual level, which affects you and covered family members, your plan can be:

Your coverage will be canceled after you receive a written notice from us.
Special enrollment periods

In most cases, you’re only allowed to enroll in your employer’s health plan during certain eligibility periods, such as when it’s first offered to you as a “new hire” or during your employer’s open enrollment period, when employees can make changes to their benefits for an upcoming year.

But there can be other times when you may be eligible to enroll. For example, let’s say the first time you were offered coverage, you stated in writing that you didn’t want to enroll yourself, your spouse or your covered dependents because you had coverage through another carrier or group health plan. If you or your dependents lose eligibility for that other coverage (or if the employer stops contributing toward your or your dependents’ other coverage) you may be able to enroll your family later. But you must ask to be enrolled within 30 days after your or your dependents’ other coverage ends (or after the employer stops contributing toward the other coverage).

Also, if you have a new dependent as a result of marriage, birth, adoption or placement for adoption, you may be able to enroll yourself and your dependents. However, you must request enrollment within 30 days after the marriage, birth, adoption or placement for adoption.

Finally, a special enrollment period of 60 days will be allowed if:

- Your or your dependents’ coverage under Medicaid or the State Children's Health Insurance Program (SCHIP) is terminated as a result of a loss of eligibility.
- You or your dependents become eligible for premium assistance under a state Medicaid or SCHIP plan.

To request special enrollment or get more information, contact your employer.

Factors used to set the price of health care coverage for employers with 51-99 employees:

- The plan selected by your employer
- Your employer's location
- The age and gender of each employee
- The number of enrolled employees
- The number of dependents enrolled by each enrollee
- The health status of the enrolled employees and their dependents
- Your employer's industry

When you’re covered by more than one plan

If you’re covered by two different group health plans, one is considered primary and the other is considered secondary. The primary plan is the first to pay a claim and reimburse according to plan allowances. The secondary plan then reimburses, usually covering the remaining allowable costs.
Determining the primary and secondary plans

See the chart below to learn which health plan is considered the primary plan. The term “participant” means the person who signed up for coverage:

- Any person to or for whom the overpayments were made
- Any health care company
- Any other organization
